

ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEER

Job Summary

Company	Sterling Environmental Engineering, P.C.
Location	24 Wade Road, Latham, New York 12110
Industries	Environmental Consulting and Professional Engineering Services
Job Type	Full Time
Preferred Experience	10 to 15 Years
Education Level	Bachelor or Master Degree in Civil or Environmental Engineering

Sterling Environmental Engineering, P.C. (STERLING), a professional corporation founded in July 1993, provides a wide range of environmental consulting and professional engineering services to the public and private sectors.

Professional Requirements:

- Undergraduate degree in civil or environmental engineering
- Master's degree preferred
- NYS professional engineer license in good standing
- Minimum 10 years of experience in consulting environment or reasonable combination of regulatory, industry and consulting experience

Experience/Expertise

- Solid and hazardous waste management
- Remediation design and construction management
- Site planning and development
- Storm water management
- Litigation support
- Environmental permitting
- Environmental impact / SEQRA analysis

Characteristics:

- Ability to manage projects, supervise staff, market and develop new business
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Working knowledge of consulting business and administrative practices
- Comfortably interact with and manage clients and supervise staff
- Represent client matters before government regulators and the public
- Actively engaged in professional organizations

Benefits:

- Healthcare (individual plan covered)
- Health savings account (employer contribution)
- 401k with profit sharing
- Single category leave policy
- Competitive salary

Please e-mail your credentials, resume, and references to: jobs@sterlingenvironmental.com